Red China Frees Three Americans

All Ill After 18 Months In Prison

HONG KONG (AP) — Bedbugs, brain washing and isolation in darkened cells — that was the Red China encounter for two American newsmen and a Brooklyn ship captain who returned Wednesday, ill and shaky, from 18 months as prisoners of the Communists.

"They brain wash you from time to time," said Richard Applegate, 37, of Medford, Ore., a National Broadcasting Co. correspondent, after setting foot on this British crown colony. "We had to tell them we loved communism before we could leave."

His companions were Donald Dixon, 25, of New York, an International News Service correspondent and Benjamin Krasner, 31, a ship captain, all seized aboard the 42-foot yawl Kert by a Red Chinese gunboat off Hong Kong March 21, 1953 while they were sailing toward Portuguese Macao.

"Any boat that is small enough is apt to be captured by the Communists," said Dixon. "They like to jump on small things. The machine-guns looked like they were itching to shoot somebody who couldn't shoot back."

Krasner, so run down he had trouble focusing his eyes, said he was forced to sign confessions written in Chinese without even knowing their meaning.

For the last 10 months, the three had been confined in small, windowless cells in a Canton jail. Taken by the Reds to the border bridge at Lohu station Wednesday, they were met by U.S. Vice Consul Hodridge, who brought them in his car about 40 miles to Hong Kong. Hodridge's simple greeting was: "I am a friend from the American consulate."

Applegate was wearing soiled blue jeans and a sport shirt which appeared to be the same clothing in which he sailed on his ill-fated voyage. Dixon, who seemed to be in the worst physical condition, was in slacks. Krasner wore soiled civilian clothes.

About 70 reporters and photographers gathered at the Peninsula Hotel in Kowloon, Hong Kong colony city on the mainland, to interview them.

Their joy over returning to freedom almost turned to hysteria at times as they recalled their ordeal. All three said they would withhold some facts about their imprisonment "because the three others are still in Communist hands." They referred to Krasner's Chinese fiancée, Wang Ying, and two Chinese boat boys seized with them on the yawl.

Although the Peiping radio announced Sunday the Americans had been "deported," they were not told they were being released until Tuesday night. Britain's former Prime Minister Clement Attlee intervened in their behalf recently when the Labor party's delegation was in Peiping.

When the Red inquisitors learned Applegate had covered the Korean War, they questioned him repeatedly on germ warfare. He first told his questioner:

"That's a lie. There were no germs dropped in Korea."

But the Communist interrogator pounded his desk and yelled:

"You lie, and if you don't go back to the truth, we'll kill you. Go back to your cell and think again."

He finally learned what the Chinese wanted from a translation of Russian stories that they wanted to kill.

"I knew then what they wanted to hear, and I gave it to them," he said.

"I found out the Reds wanted me to lie about germ warfare in Korea, so I lied plenty. I lied 17 pages of lies. They told me that even the wind from Hong Kong contained germs. I agreed."

"I think the Communists have done a lot of good for China," Applegate said. "They have stopped graft, opium smoking and drug traffic, but all at the expense of the people."

Krasner said he would stay in Hong Kong and try to get his Chinese fiancée released. He has no idea where she is. Applegate also plans to remain here a few days. Dixon said he would return to the United States soon.

Probers Hear Realtor Obtained FHA Loans On Fictitious Property

CHICAGO (AP) — A Champaign, Ill., real estate operator testified Wednesday he obtained about $100,000 in government-insured loans for home improvements on property which was non-existent in many cases. Maurice Bauman, 30, testified at a hearing of the Senate Banking Committee which is investigating Federal Housing Administration operations.

Bauman said he paid persons $25 to $50 in fees for permitting him to use their names on FHA loans of $2,000 to $2,500. He referred to these persons as "straw men." He said addresses listed were fictitious in many cases. Asked if any of the loans actually were used for property improvements he said it was "very unlikely."

Bauman said he made the loans through Vernon L. Gillespie, vice president in charge of the Champaign office of the Mercantile Mortgage Co. He said he paid Gillespie $50 for every loan that went through.

William Rainford, president of the Mercantile Mortgage Co., Granite City, Ill., said Gillespie was discharged last January after the home office learned of the deals. Rainford declared he notified Guy T. O. Holliday and Arthur J. Frentz, former FHA officials, of the transactions. Holliday and Frentz since have been removed from their FHA jobs.

Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.), committee chairman, said the testimony was "the most shocking revelation" he had heard.

He said Bauman "tells us of deals in which he violated the law by bribery and cheating" and that Rainford's testimony was that he reported this to FHA officials and "nothing was done."

Capehart asked for a full investigation and report on whether FHA officials took any action on the report.

Bauman said he made payments on many of the loans personally. He said he needed the money because "I was borrowing money to operate my business." He added that in many cases the "straw men" whose names he used on the loans were "buying houses from me." He said he wrote the "straw men's" names on the loan applications personally in many cases.

Bauman added that he used proceeds of the loans for such purposes as down payments on homes, automobiles, refrigerators, etc.

Rainford testified Bauman made 91 loans for a total of $10,000 through his firm. He said 16 of these loans had been repaid in full, but that in 41 cases the borrower has not paid, contending that his signature on the loan was a forgery.

Rainford said his firm was an approved FHA mortgagee, but William S. Fitch, committee counsel, said that "as of last Monday you no longer are an approved mortgagee." Simon said a letter to that effect had been sent Rainford.

Rainford testified his firm had branches in Peoria, Carbondale and Decatur, Ill.; Indianapolis; Clayton and Sikeston, Mo.; and had subsidiary offices also in Springfield and Champaign, Ill.

"This, then, is why Republicans must unite this year. It is why Democrats and Independents alike, who backed Dwight Eisenhower in 1952, must back him again in 1954."

The speech kicked off a 33-state barnstorming tour by Nixon in behalf of President Eisenhower to help elect a working GOP majority in the Senate and House of Representatives.

The vice president said the votes of Democrats in the closely divided 83rd Congress "became increasingly political and expedient" near the end of the session and added:

"Should the opposition party... move into power we will see two years of calculated, deliberate efforts by them to discredit the Eisenhower administration."

"Until, then, is why Republicans must unite this year. It is why Democrats and Independents alike, who backed Dwight Eisenhower in 1952, must back him again in 1954."

Kills Wife, Son By Turning On Gas In Tourist Cabin

ROCHELLE, Ill. (AP) — Kenneth Collins Wednesday told officials he killed his wife and 11-month-old son by turning on the gas in their one-room cabin in a tourist court. State's Atty. Wayne Bettner and Sheriff James White of Ogle County said Collins made his verbal admission in a hospital, where he is recovering from the effects of gas.

The victims were Mrs. Theresa Collins, 26, and Kenneth Jr., 11 months.

The manager of a Rochelle tourist court smelted gas Tuesday and turned on the gas and found the family in bed. The mother and child were dead. Collins was in a dazed condition.

Officials said Collins told them he opened the gas jets on a cooking stove, left the cabin for two hours, and returned and opened a window. He apparently inhaled some gas himself after his return.

No motive was given.

Collins and his wife worked in a vegetable packing plant. The family came to Rochelle from Puxico, Mo.

EMBALMERS STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP) — An estimated 700 AFL embalmers struck Tuesday in New York City and Long Island's Nassau County to press wage and hour demands.

George Goodstein, spokesman for the Metropolitan Funeral Directors Assn., said supervisory personnel would do embalming work and that no great difficulty was expected in handling funerals.

He said there were about 175 deaths daily in the area affected by the strike. The strike involved about 200 firms.

The strikers have been working a 48-hour week, with the final 8 hours at time and a half pay, for a weekly wage of $86. They asked the same pay for a 40-hour week.

Kingston is the capital city of the island of Jamaica.

Church Manifesto On Economics

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Council of Churches Wednesday approved a manifesto setting forth Christian principles of economics.

It was drawn up by a committee headed by Charles P. Taft, Cincinnati attorney, for the guidance of more than 35 million Protestant churchgoers in this country.

The manifesto called for "a sound economy which seeks the maximum welfare of the greatest number of people."

It declared the minimum standard of living should be sufficient to permit care of the health of all "and for suitable protection of weaker members of society, such as children, the sick, the aged, and the incapacitated."

Hold Psychologist, Estranged Wife Of Stabbed Man

OMAHA (AP) — A university psychologist was held by police Wednesday as they investigated the stabbing of an Omaha man whose wife had asked the psychologist's counsel to save their marriage.

Dr. Claude E. Thompson, 43, university of Omaha professor and father of three, and petite Mrs. Eva Adele Luther, 34, estranged wife of the wounded man, were arrested early today as they sat together in the psychologist's car.

Both were held for questioning, but Mrs. Luther was later released on $200 appearance bond.

In critical condition with six stab wounds was Francis W. Luther, 38, underwriter for a large insurance firm. Police found him lying outside a tavern shortly before 1 a.m.

From a hospital bed, Luther told officers he had found his wife and Dr. Thompson together in a car near the tavern. When Thompson got out, Luther said he struck the psychologist and that Thompson had stabbed him.

Dr. Thompson's white shirt was bloodstained when officers arrested him. He denied stabbing Luther.

Dr. Smyth Resigns AEC Post, Dr. Libby Succeeds Him

DENVER (AP) — President Eisenhower "very reluctantly" accepted Wednesday the resignation of Dr. Henry D. Smyth as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission and appointed a University of Chicago atomic scientist to succeed him.

Smyth, 56, said in his letter of resignation that the United States has a stockpile of hydrogen and atomic bombs which, in the event of enemy attack, "would assure this country and the free world the capacity to answer with overwhelming power."

He plans to return to Princeton University where he was a faculty member from 1924 to 1949.

The summer White House announced Eisenhower is naming Dr. Willard Frank Libby, 45, to succeed Smyth, effective Sept. 30.

Smyth was named to the commission by President Truman May 31, 1949, for a term expiring June 30, 1956.

Libby is a chemistry professor at University of Chicago and is associated with its Institute of Nuclear Studies.

U.S. Plans Strong Force In West Pacific: Dulles

PARIS (AP) — Anthony Eden flew to Paris in a drizzling rain Wednesday and opened talks with Premier Pierre Mendes-France in an attempt to persuade France to accept quickly a new accord which would permit rearming West Germany.

The British foreign secretary, citing agreement in Brussels, Bonn and Rome with his view that "peace and freedom can be assured by strengthening European unity," was met at the airport by Mendes-France, the man blamed by many advocates of the European Defense Community treaty for the treaty's defeat in the French Assembly.

They opened with a conference of about two hours at the Premier's official residence, then took a brief break.

"We will talk before dinner, during dinner, after dinner and then some more tomorrow," the Premier said.

Both men declined to comment on their discussions, but a French Foreign Ministry spokesman said Eden had presented his plan for the organization of European defense—a plan through which West Germany and Italy might be joined to the Brussels pact defense setup under NATO—and reported how his ideas were received in the other capitals.

Eden, upon his arrival here, declined to comment on authoritative reports he was proposing direct entry of West Germany into NATO, but pointedly refused to control purposes into a revised Brussels pact that would join Italy also with the charter members of 1948—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg.

Among the French, the idea of German Rearmament, even in NATO, was greeted with considerable reserve.

New Antibiotic Controls Some Infections, Cancer

NEW YORK (AP) — A new antibiotic, pyromycin, shows some promise of controlling some infections and certain types of cancer, the American Chemical Society was told Wednesday.

The drug may be the first in a new line of antibiotics, by changing the original formula to "tailor-made" new ones against specific germs, viruses or cancer cells, said scientists of Lederle Laboratories division, American Cyanamid Co.

Pyromycin had been cancer out transplanted breast cancers in mice, and now is being tested experimentally on human cancers.

It shows greatest promise so far against African sleeping sickness, caused by a parasite and is undergoing trials on humans and is already having this effect.

The drug was first obtained from a mold found in an old Indian mound in Wisconsin. Now it and a number of relatives have been made synthetically.

The drug apparently blocks some step in the life-processes of living cells, Lederle scientists said. In theory it may be possible to design drugs which viruses, germs or cancer cells would take in, in place of some essential chemical they need. The drug would become a monkey wrench tossed into the machinery of the cell or virus.

Democrats Show Gains In COP Ruled Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin Democrats, who have failed to name a governor in more than two decades, had reason to smile Wednesday at the vote they piled up in Tuesday's primary election.

Republicans, as they have for 22 years, dominated the polling in the state's 3,288 precincts. But the Democrats showed gains of between 12 and 17 per cent in the number of ballots marked by their constituents.

The unofficial total vote was 562,803 with only 97 precincts missing. Republicans in their top race for a secretary of state nominee, cast 349,553 votes. Democrats, naming a candidate to oppose incumbent Gov. Walter Kohler in November, marked 222,250 ballots.

William Proxmire, the Democrats' choice, was re-elected by a margin of 138,827 votes to James Doyle's 83,423. The contest was the only one of major interest within the party.

QUEMOY, A TESTING GROUND?

Headlines these days suggest pretty furious activity between the Nationalist and the Communist Chinese around the small islands off the mainland coast of China. The effect could be misleading if military operations there are not kept in perspective.

The Reds may well be in the preliminary stages of an invasion attempt against Quemoy, an island some seven miles from the mainland. The island has long been occupied by the Nationalists, and used by them as a base for hit-and-run raids against the mainland.

These raids have harassed the Communists ceaselessly, and it would not be surprising if they should now be mounting an attack designed to wipe out the base.

Naturally the Nationalists are unwilling to abandon this desirable vantage point without a fight. Their spirited air and sea assault against the Red mainland and island bases near Quemoy is the measure of the importance they attach to their outpost.

But this is not war on a big scale, nor is it necessarily a prelude to Red attack on the far more important strategic prize of Formosa, the big Nationalist-held island 100 miles off the Chinese shore.

The Reds can try and may succeed in capturing tiny Quemoy with a vast assortment of junks and other vulnerable craft, despite Nationalist defense. To take on Formosa, with the U. S. Seventh Fleet standing patrol duty close by, is something else. There is no evidence the Reds are prepared yet even to attempt a sneak assault there by sea. Only the Russian Navy could give them the support they need for such an attack.

As a theoretical matter, the idea of an airborne attack cannot be ruled out. But the chances are that Red China is not now equipped nor is its military manpower trained for that kind of offensive.

So blows against Quemoy, however loudly they are heralded, do not signal the start of a broader offensive against the big target, Formosa. Possibly their only value as a prelude would be to gauge the character and effectiveness of the Nationalist defense at Quemoy. If that defense is rugged, the Reds may think a long time before trying to remove the painful Formosa thorn in their side.

NEW YORK (AP)—One of those quiet-spoken intelligence agents came in the other day to ask me some questions about an old friend. Ever hear the name, Richard Sorge?

Richard Sorge was a spy, a Communist spy, a true genius in that desperate trade.

For my money, he was the greatest of them all, a man who made Mata Hari look like a little girl playing cops-and-robbers. He got his hands on two of the most vital pieces of information in the history of our time, and succeeded in transmitting them to the Kremlin.

One was Hitler's intention to tear up the nonaggression treaty with Russia and launch his attack in June 1940. Sorge had the correct date and some of the troop dispositions.

The other was Japan's timetable. He seems to have had advance information about Pearl Harbor.

He had previously organized, and was directing, an espionage network operating all through the Far East and here. Some U. S. top intelligence people fear so.

Through his agents, many of them in very high places, Sorge reached into every chancellery from Japan to Java. He knew some of the deepest secrets of the great powers.

Nobody ever served the Reds better — even against his own country. Richard Sorge was a German.

I knew him in Tokyo as a fellow correspondent. That was merely part of his "cover," of course, although he actually worked at the job. He never let on the extent of his information, but he must have had many a lusty laugh at the rest of us.

He made a wonderful companion, gay, amusing, a fascinating talker. He liked food, liquor, late hours and the ladies. In fact, the story is that it was a girl who brought him to destruction. I am not too sure about that.

He had a perfect facade for his job. As a newspaperman, and a very presentable one, he had entire everywhere. As a German, he was highly persona grata with Japanese officials.

More important, he had become a pet of the German Embassy. In part, this was because of his brilliant record in World War I. He came through covered with medals and the old German army was something less than lavish with them. He became a close confidante of the German ambassador in Tokyo — so much so that when World War II started, the ambassador made him the embassy press officer!

In that post, he had access to the Nazis' top secrets.

He was equally well fixed for getting information about Japan. One of his lieutenants had been the private secretary to the prime minister.

To get his information to Moscow, Sorge used all the tricks, the microfilm messages in cigarettes, etc. After the war started, he began transmitting over a portable, short-wave radio.

Japan's secret police — the dreaded "Kempeitai" — knew a spy was operating somewhere in the country. But evidently, Richard Sorge, correspondent and war hero was the last man they suspected.

Then the break came. After Pearl Harbor, Sorge requested a transfer. He told the Kremlin his usefulness in Japan was ended. Apparently, he never got an answer. Why, nobody knows.

While he was waiting for it, according to the story, one of his girl friends gave him away in a fit of jealousy. He was arrested and executed.

So went a brilliant, if twisted man. He once told me he felt deeply that "something" was needed to break the recurring cycle of war in western Europe. He didn't say what it was. Apparently, he thought communism was the answer.

I wonder whether he would still think so.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sometimes it takes an outsider to make you realize that Hollywood is basically a rather wacky place.

Our visitor is Miss Joan Greenwood, brittle and volatile British actress who is here to make her first Hollywood movie, "Moonfleet." Here's her reaction to the town:

"I used to think Hollywood would be quite a normal place, because I had many friends who lived and worked here. They gave me the impression everything was ordinary and businesslike here. But it seems to me like the Hollywood of legend. It's a fabulous place."

One thing she can't quite get used to is the shade of her hair. "There's a good reason for that. It changes every day."

"Oh, they've tried everything," she remarked. "When I came here, my hair was a little lighter, but my normal ash blonde. The story is that it was a girl who brought him to destruction. I am not too sure about that."

"He had a perfect facade for his job. As a newspaperman, and a very presentable one, he had entire everywhere. As a German, he was highly persona grata with Japanese officials."

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Wiley, the Wisconsin Republican who is chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, has come up with some ideas which seem headed for no place.

His ideas—he offers them for study and not as flat proposals for the United States to follow—are aimed at possible changes in the United Nations' way of doing business.

When the wartime Allies stitched the U. N. together in San Francisco in 1945 they agreed on how they'd operate, writing their agreement into 111 articles of the U. N. Charter.

Foreseeing that some of them might want to change those rules some day, they wrote in a rule for doing just that. It's rule No. 109.

It's a beaut. Briefly, it says none of the rules can be changed without approval of two-thirds of the U. N. members—there are now 60—including all 5 permanent members of the Security Council.

The five permanent members are the United States, Russia, Britain, France, and Nationalist China. Rule No. 109 means then, any one of the five could veto any change.

Rule No. 109 also says the U. N. must, in 1955, put on its docket the question of revising the charter. But whether the members go into a special conference to consider changes is left up to them at the time.

One of the things which makes Wiley unhappy is that Russia really has three votes in the General Assembly while every other nation, including the United States, has only one.

The Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is made up of Republics just as the United States is made up of states but Russia as a whole and two Russian republics, the Ukraine and Byelorussia, are U. N. members.

The Ukraine and Byelorussia couldn't be thrown out unless the charter was changed. And Russia could veto that.

This veto power in the Security Council is also something which needs study, Wiley says. But no one around here is predicting the United States would ever let the veto power be taken from the council's five permanent members.

The United States can use that veto any time it wishes to prevent the U. N. from pushing through a major proposal which this country considers injurious to its interests.

Wiley notes another study problem: The present one-state-one-vote arrangement in the General Assembly, which gives the smallest nation as much voting power there as the largest.

Wiley asked his staff on the Foreign Relations Committee to make a study and a report. The report was released Tuesday night together with Wiley's introductory statement.

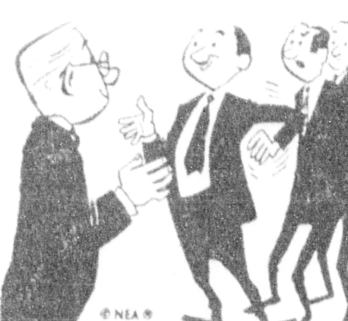

This report suggested some possible solutions but offered none as a final answer. This could be proposed, for instance:

Instead of limiting each member, large or small, to one vote, let each member have a number of votes in accordance with its size, population, national income, and the money it spends to help support the U. N.

It's hard to see the small U. N. nations going for a proposition that would give the big powers a stronger say and themselves less. So it is difficult to see how a two-thirds majority could be mustered for such a change, even if all the big five should approve.

And even though 50 U. N. members approved the weighted-vote formula, Russia could veto the whole business.

Manners Make Friends

A good committee chairman doesn't try to do all of the work himself. He sees that everyone on his committee who is willing to work has a hand in what needs to be done. When the time comes to receive the credit for a job well done, he doesn't take all the credit, either.

Share the work and share the praise is the way to be a good committee chairman.

Chills, Sweats Among Symptoms of Undulant Fever

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Mrs. P. would not encounter so much misunderstanding if her friends read this column. She says, "I have just been released from the hospital with undulant fever and everyone I talk to says they have never heard of such a disease."

Although undulant fever has been discussed several times in this column before it evidently needs further emphasis and certainly it is a disease which causes a great deal of concern to physicians and health officials. It is also extremely important to the livestock and dairy interest.

Undulant fever is one kind of brucellosis, all of them being germ diseases of different varieties. One of the difficulties with human brucellosis is that it is a disease which can cause variable symptoms. In a typical acute attack fever, chills, sweats, loss of weight, pains in the muscles and headache are quite common.

The fever tends to go up and down in a wave-like manner and it is this characteristic which has given it the name of "undulant fever."

But all too often the disease does not show typical symptoms and can be confused with other conditions. It is sometimes responsible for backache and other signs of muscular or joint rheumatism.

Some years ago one of the leading research workers on this disease contracted it but was considered to be a "nervous case" because for many years before the true cause was identified. Generally, brucellosis is a chronic and long-lasting condition. It is difficult to diagnose because there is no single test which identifies it with certainty (except a blood test which does not always reveal it when present).

It is also difficult to treat because it calls for a treatment which will not only control the infection but eradicate the germ from the body. Recently promising results, however, have been reported with mixtures of various sulfa drugs and antibiotics.

Epidemics have been reported from germ infected milk. In fact, the disease is usually contracted by drinking infected milk or coming in contact with meat from infected animals and this fact has made it necessary sometimes to destroy whole herds or flocks.

Although brucellosis remains a serious health problem, some progress is being made. It is being fought in livestock on farms. Research work on better methods of diagnosis and treatment are being carried out in many laboratories throughout the world.

The elimination of the disease in dairy herds and other livestock and the use of pasteurized milk and care in avoiding infection by contact with infected meats should do much to cut down the danger of contracting brucellosis.

And there is real hope that still better treatments will be developed. Still badly needed, however, are more reliable methods of diagnosis, particularly for the chronic variety.

McCarthy Takes Tack That End Justifies the Means

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP)—(NEA)—Sen. Joseph M. McCarthy's "defense" is apparently going to be another "Indian Charlie" attack to prove that whatever he did, he was justified in doing it.

This is what came out of his opening appearance before the Senate's special six-man committee headed by former Judge Arthur V. Watkins of Utah. This committee is examining charges that Senator McCarthy should be censured for improper conduct.

The fifth and last of these charges is variously stated. Sen. J. William Fulbright (D. Ark.) charged that "Without justification, the junior senator from Wisconsin impugned the loyalty, patriotism, and character of Gen. Ralph Zwicker."

General Zwicker, of course, was commanding general at Camp Kilmer when Maj. Irving Peress, an Army dentist, was given an honorable discharge after he had cited the Fifth Amendment to avoid answering questions on his Communist associations.

SENATOR MCCARTHY looked a little heavier and a lot more relaxed than he was during the Mundt committee televised hearings. He answered in a low, almost bored voice, the questions on the Zwicker-Peress case, put to him by his counsel, Edward B. Williams.

They took the customary diversionary direction. Instead of being on the defensive or denying the Fulbright-Morse charges against him, Senator McCarthy opened a new attack on General Zwicker.

A witness was produced who had overheard General Zwicker mutter at the New York hearings last February that McCarthy was an S. O. B.

Senator McCarthy, telling the Watkins committee that it was impossible to describe the demeanor of a witness, nevertheless characterized General Zwicker's demeanor as "arrogant, evasive, one of the most irritating witnesses" he had ever examined.

THE CHARGES AGAINST Senator McCarthy were almost lost sight of in developing this case against General Zwicker. But two points on this charge against Senator McCarthy may have been clarified.

1. Senator McCarthy denied that he had impugned General Zwicker's loyalty. He impugned only the general's judgment in obeying orders from a higher level that he give Major Peress an honorable discharge.

2. Senator McCarthy declared that he thought General Zwicker was unfit to wear the uniform "of a general." This is different from Senator Morse's charge that Senator McCarthy had said General Zwicker was "unfit to wear the uniform."

The Peress investigation transcript shows that after General Zwicker had testified an officer should be kept in service if he obeyed competent orders to give a Fifth Amendment Communist an honorable discharge, Senator McCarthy declared:

"Then, general, you should be removed from any command. Any man who has been given the honor of being promoted to general and who says, 'I will protect another general who protected Communists' is not fit to wear that uniform, general."

"I say it again, Senator McCarthy told the Watkins committee, indicating he is not backing down in the slightest on his original conduct of the Zwicker case."

WHILE SENATOR MCCARTHY'S counsel, Williams, invited the six senators to cross-examine his client on the Zwicker case charge, Committee Counsel Wallace Chadwick passed up that chance.

Cross-examination by the senators will be delayed till all the defense is in, instead of count by count on the five charges. That pulls the real showdown off to the end of the hearing.

Meanwhile, Sen. Ralph Flanders (R. Vt.) who started all this ruckus with his resolution demanding censure of Senator McCarthy, is in with new charges on the Zwicker case. They are that the hearing was highly irregular and that the hearing record is not complete.

While Chairman Watkins said that his committee did not want to try the Peress case all over again, that in effect is what is happening. If Senator Flanders or anyone else has pertinent information to give the Watkins committee, the proper place to give it would seem to be as a sworn witness in open session.

Serve Slumgullion at Your Back-to-School Party

FOR THE BACK-TO-SCHOOL PARTY — Slumgullion, green salad, iced soft drinks and a decorated "fortune" cake.

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food and Markets Editor

Every year, right after school opens, we let our younger son give a "Back-to-School Party."

This little celebration, attended by his school friends, make the new term seem very important.

His mother prepares a large amount of slumgullion ("slum" to the boys) made of boneless chuck. It is served on hamburger rolls. With it there is a green salad, bottled soft drinks (lots of them) in a large ice bucket, and a fortune cake. Simple enough but the menu is just what the young scholars ordered.

Slumgullion (Makes 4 to 6 servings) Four slices bacon, diced, 1 medium-sized onion, sliced thin, 1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in small pieces, 1 pound lean boneless chuck beef, cut in 1-inch cubes, 1 teaspoon salt, 3/4 cups canned tomatoes, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1/4 pound processed American cheese, shredded (about 1 cup), 4 to 6 hamburger rolls.

In a large, heavy skillet, combine bacon, onion, green pepper, beef and salt. Cook over moderate heat about 10 minutes, or until mixture begins to turn brown, stirring occasionally. Add tomatoes and Worcestershire sauce, mixing thoroughly.

Cook over low heat 45 to 50 minutes, or until beef is tender; stir occasionally. If mixture becomes too thick, stir in a little lukewarm water. Remove from heat and stir in cheese, mixing until cheese is completely melted.

To serve, cut rolls in halves and toast cut sides. Arrange 2 halves on each plate, toasted sides up. Then pour piping-hot slumgullion over them. Serve immediately.

TOMORROW'S MENU: Panbrowned liver and crisp bacon, whipped potatoes, broiled tomato halves, soft rolls or enriched bread, butter or margarine, prune and cream cheese open-face pie, coffee, tea, milk.

Wesleyan U. Gets $500,000 From Blackstock Estate

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—President Merrill J. Holmes of Illinois Wesleyan University said today the university will receive an estimated $500,000 from the estate of the late Mrs. Mary H. Blackstock of Springfield.

Mrs. Blackstock, philanthropist and civic worker, died Aug. 21 at the age of 85. Her husband, Ira Burton Blackstock, who operated a Springfield ice company and was active in construction of southwestern railroads, died in 1931.

Holmes said that under Mrs. Blackstock's will, the university will receive 960 acres of land in Kansas, valued at $100,000, plus $400,000 with the specification that only the income from that be used each year.

The bequest, raising Illinois Wesleyan's endowment to more than two million dollars, is one of the largest ever received by the university.

Chicago Drives Against Illegally Entered Aliens

CHICAGO (AP)—An all-out drive to rid Chicago and its suburbs of aliens who entered the country illegally will get under way Friday.

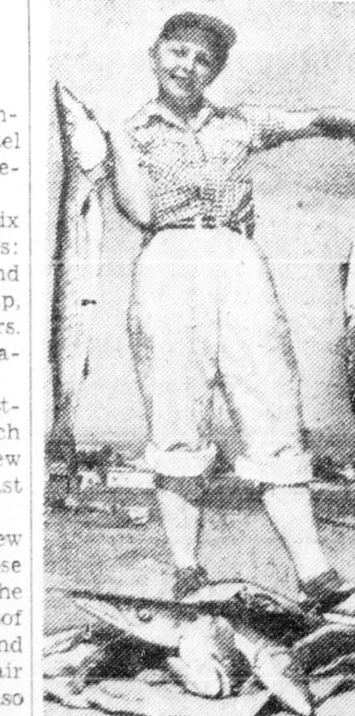

The drive by immigration inspectors will be directed primarily at 20,000 to 35,000 Mexicans said to be living in an area along Lake Michigan from Milwaukee into Michigan.

Walter A. Sahall, district director of immigration and naturalization, said aliens able to pay their own way will be given a reasonable time to leave the country. Others, he said, will be jailed until the government can fly them to Texas, then send them by boat to Vera Cruz, Mexico.

typical of American politics that a popular deficit is one thing and an unpopular deficit another.

This time Congress carries a good share of the responsibility for a suddenly discovered increased deficit. Congress was Republican controlled, although the Democratic members contributed in cutting taxes more than the administration asked. Civilian expenditures were increased while the defense program took heavy cuts.

The administration had relied upon these cuts to give it a good start toward a balanced budget. Instead, tax collections are off, especially in the corporation field, in addition to the direct reductions made for individuals. Refunds are heavier than expected. Instead of heading toward balance, the budget deficit is now expected to be $4,700,000,000, or nearly two billion more than for the year which ended last July.

Spending increases voted by Congress over and above the Budget Bureau's estimates made last January run approximately 1 1/2 billion.

The Republicans, of course, can still point to a 50 per cent reduction in the deficit since the 1953 budget was prepared by the Democrats. But the net reduction seems now to lie almost entirely in the field of national defense—which worries many people who wish to take no chance in that field.

70% Illinois Corn Crop Mature, Safe From Frost Damage

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Seventy per cent of the Illinois corn crop is mature and safe from frost, the State-Federal Agriculture Departments and the Weather Bureau said Tuesday.

Dry soil and high temperatures helped both corn and soybeans mature quickly. Over half the crop correspondents reported a shortage of ground moisture.

In northern counties, over 50 per cent of the corn was safe and in southern counties, over 85 per cent. Some corn has been picked, mostly for immediate feeding.

Both corn and soybeans are only a few days behind the 1953 maturing schedule. Soybean leaves are yellow and shedding on almost 80 per cent of their acreage and about 16 per cent has been harvested, mostly in southern Illinois.

Growers continued to harvest canning crops of sweet corn, lima beans and tomatoes in central Illinois. Jonathan apples were picked in southern counties during the week; the golden delicious variety will be picked next week.

Pigeon Flies Home To Japan From U.S. On Loaned Wings

TOKYO (AP)—"Yokohama Mama," the peripatetic pigeon, is back from the United States and she didn't have to fly on her own wings.

Last May, Yukio Inui, 27, of Tokyo, entered his pigeon in a race of 250 miles northeast of Tokyo. She was a June pigeon.

In June, Yokohama Mama landed aboard the Japanese freighter Elizan Maru when it was two days away from Port Angeles, Wash. Crewmen identified her by the band as a Japanese bird but she flew the coop when the ship headed and she turned up at a Coast Guard officer's room at Port Angeles.

The Coast Guard turned Yokohama Mama over to Jim Sulem, 29, of the Port Angeles Pigeon Racing Club. Sulem restored her strength and returned the pigeon to Inui via Northwest Air Lines.

JHS English Students Visit Journal Courier

More than 250 Jacksonville High School sophomores toured the Journal Courier plant Wednesday, seeing first-hand the process of newspaper-making which they have been studying in English classes.

The sophomores' visit to the newspaper plant is an annual fall event. Classes from other schools throughout Morgan County and the Journal Courier circulation area visit the plant at intervals during the year.

A study of the history and making of the daily newspaper in America is the first task undertaken by high school sophomore English classes in the fall.

In addition to seeing the daily newspaper's machines and employees at work, the groups visited the job department, where they saw the press and equipment used to print their school paper, the Jacksonville High School Herald.

Teachers accompanying the students were Miss Fergene Goddin, Miss Ann Russell Jones and Miss Helen Richards.

Viet Nam Premier, Army Chief Settle Their Differences

PARIS (AP)—The French News Agency reported from Saigon today that Viet Nam's premier and army chief of staff have settled their quarrel, ending the immediate threat of a new outbreak of violence in the Indochina state.

Premier Ngo Dinh Diem ordered the officer, Gen. Nguyen Van Hinh, to quit his post last Saturday and take the first plane for France on a "study mission." Hinh refused and posted army guards in front of his residence and headquarters to prevent any move by the premier to arrest him.

According to the Saigon report, the two reached a "gentleman's agreement" Tuesday under which Hinh will take a "short leave." But he will (1) keep his army title, (2) designate his temporary successor, and (3) choose the date of his departure.

Observers said the face-saving settlement gave Hinh satisfaction without putting Diem in too difficult a position.

EAST SIDE COMMUNITY CLUB MEETS SEPT. 17

The East Side Community club of the Morton school district will have its first meeting of the fall season at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 17, at the school. Everyone in the community is urged to attend. Families are asked to take sufficient cookies for their members.

STRIKING EXPERIENCE—Tell Mrs. G. S. Macklin, of Hutchinson, Kan., and her 17-year-old son, Dallas, that the odds against being struck by lightning are 365,000 to one and they'll answer "See you!" For lightning struck twice in the Macklin family. Mrs. Macklin was knocked out and thrown across her kitchen while talking on the phone nine years ago. Recently Dallas was working in a farm garage when it began to rain. He started out to close his car's windows, but never made it. Lightning struck a nearby tree and kayned him. He's shown with his mother in the hospital recovering from the shock.

MISSION MEETING AT NORTHMINSTER

The September Missionary meeting will be held at the Northminster Presbyterian church at 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 16.

Devotions will be given by Mrs. Nardia Hodge and world news by Mrs. Thomas Fernandes. "Christ Calls Us to Witness in Pakistan" is the theme for the month with the program committee including Mrs. L. A. Vasconcellos and Mrs. Lillie Sears.

In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mrs. George Corcoran will preside. Plans for the Jacksonville district meeting, to be held Friday, Oct. 7, at Northminster church, were completed.

$2 1/2 Million Suit Dismissed Against Chicago Tribune

CHICAGO (AP)—A 2 1/2 million dollar libel suit against the Chicago Tribune was dismissed Tuesday by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher who commended newspapers generally for guarding against corruption of public officials.

Judge Fisher dismissed the suit by Kenneth G. Belt, an American civil engineer who was a civilian employe on a U. S. Army depot construction project at Bussau, France. Belt contended the Tribune libeled him May 8, 1952 in an article about alleged waste on the project.

Judge Fisher commented: "They (the newspapers) play an extraordinary role in guarding against corruption, inefficiency, neglect or incompetence on the part of public officials."

"It may be unfortunate that in finding fault with Army officers who have probably wasted some of the public's money, Belt's name was mentioned... but that's a risk everyone must take who is willing to accept employment from the government."

Colorado Voters Write Favorite From Across U.S.

ASPEN, Colo. (AP)—Eighty Pitkin county voters in Tuesday's primary election looked clear across the country for their favorite in the race for congressman from Colorado's Northern District.

They wrote in the name of Republican Rep. John P. Saylor of Johnstown, Pa.

Cardinals had been circulated prior to the primary naming Saylor as "Pitkin County's best friend in Washington in the water diversion fight."

Saylor, a sharp critic of upper Colorado River development, signed a minority House committee report condemning the project.

Pitkin County residents object particularly to the proposed Frypan-Arkansas diversion, which would take water from the Frypan River in Pitkin County over the Continental Divide into the Arkansas River on the eastern slope.

Youth Called 'Old Baldy' Runs Away

CATTERICK, England (AP)—Pvt. William H. McIntyre, hairless at 18, told a court-martial Tuesday he ran away from the British Army because other soldiers called him "Old Baldy."

McIntyre had official permission to wear a paratrooper's beret until he could get a wig. But he said noncoms who did not know this were constantly forcing him to bare his nude skull.

The unhappy private, who gave himself up after four months, pleaded guilty to being absent without leave.

He was sentenced to five days in the guardhouse.

Alabama Farmers Plow Up Iron Ore

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—South Alabama farmers are plowing up acceptable iron ore by the ton and shipping it to North Alabama steel mills.

More than 1050 carloads of iron ore have been shipped from South Alabama pastures and cotton fields since January, the Central of Georgia Railroad magazine says.

Glasgow Christian Missionary Group At Hillview Home

GLASGOW—The Missionary Society of the Glasgow Christian Church held their September meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Smothers in Hillview.

The meeting opened with a hymn and prayer. Roll call was from the 23rd Psalm and was repeated in unison. Devotional leader was Mrs. Gertrude Evars. Worship theme was "What Is the City But the People?"

Mrs. Oma Edwards had charge of program three "Many Needs, Many Ministries." Members read clippings from various types of city churches, telling of specific problems and opportunities of the churches they represent.

The program portion closed with a hymn and Missionary benediction. During the following social hour, pencil games were conducted by the program leader with winners being Mrs. Charlotte Smith and Mrs. Kate Ward. Mrs. Oma Edwards won the door prize, awarded by the hostess. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Kathleen Hester.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. May Killebrew Oct. 13.

Bake Sale, Rummage Sale
 The Glasgow Christian Church will have a bake sale at the Farm Bureau office in Winchester Saturday, Sept. 25.

The church will also hold a rummage sale on the same date in the Court House basement at Winchester.

Hospital Patients
 Mrs. Arthur Schafer entered Passavant Area Hospital in Jacksonville on Tuesday for observation and treatment. Late reports show her condition to be improved.

Oscar Yates, east of Glasgow, entered Passavant Area Hospital in Jacksonville Friday, and underwent major surgery Saturday. He is now reported improving satisfactorily.

Mrs. Artie Howard, who has been convalescing from an injured knee

at her home here, entered the new nursing home in Winchester Sunday for an indefinite stay.

New Church Progresses
 Progress is being made on the building of the new Christian church addition here, with the basement walls now finished and the sub-floor and part of the wooden framework of the building proper now completed. All construction work is being done by Junior Nell, his father, and Tom Page, of Hillview.

The new addition, which joins the original building on the west, will, upon being completed, serve as the main auditorium, with the old portion to be used principally as Sunday School rooms for the time being.

Baptismal Service
 A baptismal service for two converts of the local Baptist Church, Ruth Ann Sipes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sipes, and Tommy Steelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Steelman, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the baptistry in the First Baptist Church in Winchester. The ordinance of baptism was administered by Rev. F. R. Parker, local pastor, and witnessed by a group of relatives and friends of the two young people.

GLASGOW—The Missionary Society of the Glasgow Christian Church held their September meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mary Smothers in Hillview.

The meeting opened with a hymn and prayer. Roll call was from the 23rd Psalm and was repeated in unison. Devotional leader was Mrs. Gertrude Evans. Worship theme was "What Is the City But the People?"

Mrs. Oma Edwards had charge of program three "Many Needs, Many Ministries." Members read clippings from various types of city churches, telling of specific problems and opportunities of the churches they represent.

The program portion closed with a hymn and Missionary benediction. During the following social hour, pencil games were conducted by the program leader, with winners being Mrs. Charlotte Smith and Mrs. Kate Ward. Mrs. Oma Edwards won the door prize, awarded by the hostess. Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Kathleen Hester.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. May Killebrew Oct. 13.

Bake Sale, Rummage Sale
 The Glasgow Christian Church will have a bake sale at the Farm Bureau office in Winchester Saturday, Sept. 25.

The church will also hold a rummage sale on the same date in the Court House basement at Winchester.

Hospital Patients
 Mrs. Arthur Schafer entered Passavant Area Hospital in Jacksonville on Tuesday for observation and treatment. Late reports show her condition to be improved.

Oscar Yates, east of Glasgow, entered Passavant Area Hospital in Jacksonville Friday, and underwent major surgery Saturday. He is now reported improving satisfactorily.

Mrs. Artie Howard, who has been convalescing from an injured knee

at her home here, entered the new nursing home in Winchester Sunday for an indefinite stay.

New Church Progresses
 Progress is being made on the building of the new Christian church addition here, with the basement walls now finished and the sub-floor and part of the wooden framework of the building proper now completed. All construction work is being done by Junior Nell, his father, and Tom Page, of Hillview.

The new addition, which joins the original building on the west, will, upon being completed, serve as the main auditorium, with the old portion to be used principally as Sunday School rooms for the time being.

Baptismal Service
 A baptismal service for two converts of the local Baptist Church, Ruth Ann Sipes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sipes, and Tommy Steelman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Steelman, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the baptistry in the First Baptist Church in Winchester. The ordinance of baptism was administered by Rev. F. R. Parker, local pastor, and witnessed by a group of relatives and friends of the two young people.

Rockford Man Shoots Wife After Two Day Quarrel

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—Mrs. Matilda Fox, 51, operator of a downtown beauty parlor, was shot to death Tuesday by her husband at the end of a two-day quarrel.

The husband, Lawrence, 58, a machinist, was held in jail on a murder charge.

Police said Mrs. Fox was shot in the head with a shotgun as she lay in bed, apparently asleep. The shooting occurred in the couple's suburban home.

Fox, in a statement to State's Atty. Robert Canfield, said his wife had accused him unjustly of tampering with some of her business papers. He said an argument started Sunday and was renewed Monday and Monday night.

The couple was married five years ago after each had been divorced from other spouses.

Bucky Harris' Future Lies With Clubowner

By HERB ALTSCHUL

WASHINGTON (AP)—A major face lifting is in store for the Washington Senators over the winter, but whether Manager Bucky Harris will vanish in the shuffle rests squarely with an old friend, clubowner Clark Griffith.

The wolves have been howling in the capital as a result of the club's disappointing second division finish. Its attendance figures have tumbled.

And when neighboring Baltimore, 38 miles away, shelled out a sizeable bundle of cash Tuesday to lure Paul Richards as general manager of the Orioles, the howling grew even louder.

Calvin Griffith, the Nationals' executive vice president, acknowledged the situation Wednesday. "Something is going to be done," he said. "We can't afford to get kicked around. You can be sure there will be plenty of changes."

Clark Griffith, the 84-year-old owner of the ball club, said firmly that any decision to shift managers would be his and his alone. He promised an announcement after the season ends Sept. 26.

Harris, himself, was saying nothing. This is his third hitch as manager of the Senators.

ONE PLAYER DRAFTED
NEW YORK (AP)—Only one player changed hands at the National Hockey League's first draft meeting Wednesday.

Johnny (Goose) McCormack, 28-year-old Edmonton-born center, was chosen by the Chicago Black Hawks for $15,000 from Montreal, Chicago, having finished last in the league standings last season, got first choice.

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

Saturday, September 25, the local Kiwanis Club will sponsor a Bicycle Rodeo. This will be held in conjunction with National Kids Day and Kiwanis Clubs throughout the country are conducting like projects.

—O—
The Rodeo will be for all kids of school age. (First through high school). The entry blanks will be handled through the schools and all kids are urged to enter. No motors allowed — strictly "man power."

—O—
What happened to last year's football and basketball teams? Roger Ezard will head for Vanderbilt next Tuesday where he hopes to play his next basketball game. The young man was well regarded by most college coaches and could have just about picked his school. From the offer they made, Vanderbilt evidently thought highly of him.

—O—
Other High School performers of last season headed for institutions of higher learning are Bob Scott and Bob Stansfield who have enrolled at IC and Edwin Batley who started at Western last week.

Former Routt stars entering college are Jim Costello, who left for Eastern State, and Dean Towers at Western. There will probably be more show up when all the colleges get under way. We understand a few more of the local boys are planning on attending IC. However this still leaves several good ball players undecided on the future.

—O—
We know of two in particular who were standouts in the eight man loop last season and could certainly help any college team, particularly Illinois College. Coach Al Miller has his eyes turned West and is still hoping.

Fridley's Pinch Hit Gives Orioles 2-1 Nip Of Bosox

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jim Fridley pinch hit for pitcher Lou Kretlow in the ninth inning and won the ball game for him Wednesday night by smashing a hit against the left field wall with the bases loaded for a 2-1 victory by the Baltimore Orioles over the Boston Red Sox.

Fridley's blow off Mel Parnell came dramatically with two outs to provide Kretlow with his sixth victory against ten defeats. It was the sixth setback for Parnell who has won two.

The Orioles had been held to five hits in eight innings when they crowded Parnell in the last frame. Frank Keller singled, Clint Courtney walked and Jim Bredeweser singled to load the bases.

Kretlow, who had singled the last two times up, was removed for a sounding blow of more than 310 feet.

SEOUL STUDENTS FLEE STORM
SEOUL (AP)—More than 300 students fled Wednesday when a wind storm blew a nearby building down a hillside. Moments later the storm blew the school building down the hill and crushed it.

7 LETTERMEN AT I. C.

Coach Al Miller's Illinois College Blueboys began practice twice daily Monday with seven lettermen on hand. The double practice sessions will be held the rest of this week and until classes begin next week.

These seven lettermen, along with "Tiny" Hess not shown, will form the nucleus of this year's Prairie Conference entrant.

Richards Says Ehlers And Dykes Can Stay

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—Paul Richards, new major domo of the downtowned Baltimore Orioles, said Wednesday the two men he replaced at Baltimore—Field Manager Jimmy Dykes and General Manager Art Ehlers—can remain in their Oriole positions.

Richards conferred Wednesday morning with Ehlers, who hurried from the East after Tuesday's announcement that Richards resigned as Chicago White Sox manager to take complete charge at Baltimore for three years.

Ehlers can stay as a sort of assistant general manager with "wide and varied duties," Richards said, while Dykes can doff his uniform and serve in a "player procurement" capacity.

Richards, as he left for a brief vacation at his Waxahachie, Tex., home, still was cagey about how extensive his role as field manager will be at Baltimore. His $50,000 a year job specifies that he direct the Orioles both on and off the field.

When he confers with Oriole officials a week from Thursday at Baltimore, it is expected Richards will outline a plan to serve in an advisory capacity to a field manager who will succeed Dykes.

Pinky Higgins, now manager of the American Assn. Louisville Colonels, is said to be one of the candidates Richards has in mind. They were old Detroit Tiger teammates, but Higgins has been mentioned as a possible successor to Lou Boudreau as manager of the Boston Red Sox, parent club of Louisville.

Marty Marion was elevated from White Sox coach to Richards' job as manager.

Football Briefs

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Quarterbacks John Rearden and sophomore Ed Brooker of La Porte, Ind. starred in a Northwestern drill on passing Wednesday with frequent strikes to ends Fred Nosal and Jack Sullivan.

Bob George, sophomore end from Hammond, Ind. was shifted to halfback to plug a gap caused by injuries.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Notre Dame's footballers were excused from a Wednesday morning drill, but found they needed the respite for a long afternoon scrimmage.

Three first stringers missed the contact work because of injuries, including right end Paul Matz, left tackle Sam Palumbo and right guard Jack Lee.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Jim Minor, slated to be the No. 2 center on the Illinois football squad, has been lost for the season.

Minor, 210-pound Chicago junior, suffered a shoulder dislocation the first day of practice Wednesday. It was announced he must undergo an operation to correct the injury.

613,000 AT LEIPZIG FAIR
BERLIN (AP)—The annual Leipzig fair ended Wednesday and the sponsoring East German government announced the 11-day industrial exposition drew more than 613,000 visitors.

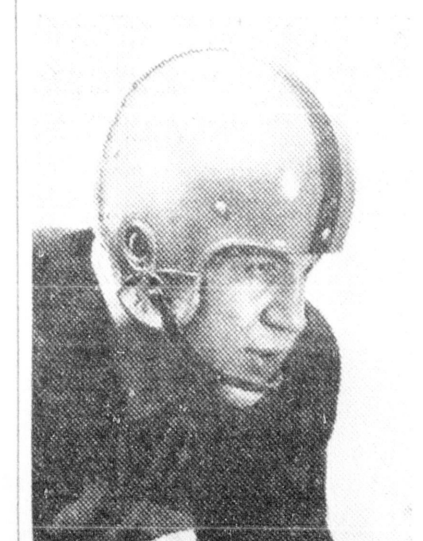

Illinois' Line Should Be Strong Up The Middle

CHAMPAIGN — Illinois' line should be strong "up the middle" in 1954. Although Coach Ray Eliot must rely heavily upon untested players at tackle and end, middle of the 1954 forward wall provides reason for cautious optimism, based mainly on an adequate supply of capable guards.

In Captain Jan Smid, Illinois have one of the nation's outstanding linemen. Smid, a candidate for All-American honors this season, was on every All-Big Ten and All-Midwest team picked following the 1953 campaign.

Jan, a 5-11, 196-pounder from River Grove, is a standout on defense. He led Illinois in unassisted tackles last year, and was feared for his ability to crash through the line and halt opponents almost as they were starting.

Smid, who attended Leyden high school, moved into the lineup just before the Michigan game of his sophomore year. He's been a fixture since, and rates among Illinois' all-time great guards.

DON TATE
Illinois Tackle

On other side of the center, Illinois will have a three-letter winner, Don "Bucky" Tate of New Castle, Pa. Tate, brother of Illinois' All-American tackle Al Tate, begin his collegiate career at tackle, and was named to the All-American freshman team at that position. For past two seasons he has capably handled guard duties.

Tate, a six-foot, 198-pound senior, and Smid were Illinois' regular guards through final portion of the 1953 season, and always gave top-flight performances.

Behind Smid and Tate are two-letter-winner Wally Vernasco, 5-11, 197 pounds, from Mishawaka, Ind., and returning guard member George Walsh, 5-11, 187-pounds, Atwood.

Vernasco is a veteran performer who in any other season might well be a starter. He is brother of Joe Vernasco, top-flight end on Illinois' 1951 Big Ten and Rose Bowl championship team. At Illinois he, too, began as an end, but he was moved to guard to take advantage of his outstanding blocking ability.

Walsh is a rugged little lineman who excels on defense when the going is toughest. As a sophomore he saw little service on a team stocked with letterman guards, but this season he should see plenty of game action. He makes up with aggressiveness what he lacks in size.

The sophomore guard crop is good, and it is from this group that major support will come. One other returnee, Paul Furimsky, 6-0, 192 pounds, Nokomis, figures as a possible traveling squad member. Otherwise, sophomores will get the calls.

It is impossible to tag any leading candidates among the newcomers, for all have definite capabilities. Leading the pack at present, however, are David Walker, 5-11, 195 pounds, Yorkville, and Vito Iovno, 5-8, 194 pounds, Chicago (Mt. Carmel).

Other promising sophomores include: Ralph Nelson, 5-10, 190 pounds, Ottawa; Francis Burnier, 5-9, 190 pounds, Chicago (Steinmetz); Sam Kovacevich, 5-11, 175 pounds, Plainfield; and Dick Sotzins, 6-0, 188 pounds, West Milton, Ohio.

Basketball Team Takes Up Ballet

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Don't be surprised if Oklahoma City University's basketball players show plenty of fancy footwork and unusual grace on the court this winter. The boys have taken up ballet.

Basketball Coach Doyle Parrack Wednesday offered this explanation:

"It's an experiment. I think there may be a correlation between the movements of the dance and basketball maneuvers, especially in jumps, post play and defense."

Parrack added he felt the twice-a-week dance lessons would help his athletes perfect their foot work and timing.

He declared, however, that the 25 basketball players attending the free classes offered by a private dancing school "were doing so on their own."

Rest And Quiet For Lake Swimmer

TORONTO (AP)—Rest and quiet have been ordered for Marilyn Bell, 16-year-old school girl who swam across Lake Ontario last week.

Her family doctor has said she must be kept "under wraps" for the next few days, one of her advisers said.

Dr. Richard Hughes found Marilyn physically fit in an examination but "slightly confused" from the strain she has been under.

Twins Make Boxing Debuts

LONDON (AP)—Twin British heavyweights made their professional debut on a boxing show at Harringay Arena Tuesday night, and both won.

Henry Cooper of London, knocked out Henry Painter of Andover in the first round. Twin brother Jim Cooper outpointed Dick Richardson of Newport, in six rounds.

Dodgers Score Six In 6th To Pound Out 10-4 Win Over Reds

BROOKLYN (AP)—Gil Hodges' 40th home run of the season touched off a six-run sixth inning by Brooklyn Wednesday that enabled the Dodgers to defeat the Cincinnati Redlegs 10-4 and keep alive their National League pennant hopes.

The victory moved the Dodgers to within three games of the front-running New York Giants, whose game against Milwaukee was rained out.

Hodges' blow broke a 2-2 tie and preceded five more hits in the sixth frame, one a grand slam double by Pee Wee Reese.

Sandy Amoros followed Gil's homer with a single and moved around on a sacrifice and another single by Jackie Robinson.

Howie Judson then relieved Cincinnati starter Bud Podbielan and was greeted by Roy Campanella's single. After Don Newcombe fouled out, Junior Gilliam walked to fill the bases.

Reese doubled in three runs and when shortstop Roy McMillan threw the relay from the outfield into the grandstand, Reese also scored. Rookie Jerry Lane relieved Judson at this point and retired the side.

Newcombe allowed eight hits until he was derailed for Jim Hughes in the eighth. Hughes choked off the Redlegs' rally with a damage of only two runs to the Brooklyn lead.

The game was started and played almost throughout in a pouring rain that made base-running and outfield play precarious. The rain slackened to a drizzle in the fifth inning but came down hard in the final three frames.

Mary Lena Faulk Comes Through In Amateur Meet

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Mary Lena Faulk, an imperious mudder from the land of Bobby Jones, struck a strong blow in defense of her Women's National Amateur golf championship Wednesday when she came from behind to defeat x-titeholder Grace Lenczyk on the 20th hole.

The Thomasville, Ga., bookkeeper, keeping her nerves and shots under firm control through a distracting drizzle, won on the second extra hole where Miss Lenczyk, obviously tiring, halt-sculled her approach, hit short with a wedge and took a bogey five.

Miss Faulk, meanwhile, hit two fine wood shots to the fat part of the green and got down in an easy four.

Miss Lenczyk, 1948 champion is from Newtonington, Conn.

Miss Faulk thus went into the round of 16 with a strong international field including Marlene Stewart, the little Canadian champion; Philomena Garvey, the Irish golf queen; 19-year-old Janette Robertson, the pride of Scotland; Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of Guadalajara, Mexico, at 17 the youngest player in the tournament; and Mrs. Margarita de Maglione of Argentina.

Another survivor was Mary (Micky) Wright, 19-year-old Stanford University coed from LaJolla, Calif., who put out the only other ex-champion in the field, Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, 1 up.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Railroads, aircrafts, oils and steels dragged the stock market lower Wednesday. But volume was light, trading selective and some industrial recovered from a mid-afternoon flurry of profit taking to close higher. Motion pictures, utilities, chemicals and building material producers also favored the minus column. But most airlines and copper mining issues improved while motors, rubbers, radio-television and retail chains ended mixed.

It was the first market decline so far this month. Most market analysts agree that the market is poised either for a new and vigorous attack on its all-time peak or a retreat that may test the 1954 lows.

Trading began at a brisk pace with most prices higher but the tape soon slowed. In the cautious attitude that characterized the morning and early afternoon, some key issues found strong support while others eased.

As the afternoon progressed, gains faded and volume increased sharply. At one moment, nearly the whole market was falling with losses of a point and two frequent. But the selling flurry was brief, prices stabilized at depressed levels and some issues made a comeback as volume decreased.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 50 cents at $139.90. The industrial component was off 50 cents at $182.50, the railroad component lost 70 cents at $97.90 and utilities dipped 10 cents at $64.30.

Volume amounted to 2,110,000 shares compared with 2,120,000 Tuesday.

The American Stock Exchange was irregularly lower as volume increased to 680,000 shares from 640,000 shares Tuesday.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—Butcher hogs dropped 25 to 35 cents, the top price again equalling the low top for the year, while sows sold steady to 50 cents lower Wednesday. Salable receipts at 7,000 head were less than expected but 1,000 head were held over from Tuesday's market.

Buyers paid $19.50 to $20.00 for choice 190 to 260-pound butchers. Light weights moved at $18.00 to $19.50. Sows sold for $15.75 to $19.25.

Receipts in the cattle section were the largest for a Wednesday in 21 years, totaling 19,000 head. Steers and heifers sold steady to 50 cents down. Top on prime steers was $29.00 with the bulk of choice and prime $23.75 to $28.00.

Most good to high choice heifers sold at $20.00 to $24.00. Buyers paid $18.00 to $23.00 for good to prime vealers with cull to commercial going for $10.00 to $18.00.

Spring lambs lost 50 cents to $1.00 in a slow trade. Yearlings and slaughter sheep held steady. Good to prime native spring lambs moved at $18.00 to $20.00 with a few up to $21.50. Salable receipts totaled 2,000.

RYE CONTINUES PRICE INCREASE

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—Rye moved into new seasonal high ground on the Board of Trade Wednesday but the rest of the grain market was not able to do anything, ending with minus signs outnumbering plus.

Even rye didn't hold onto its best gains. While final prices were still ahead on the day they were down around two cents from the peaks. September soybeans gained nearly five cents at one time, falling back to hold only a small gain at the finish.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, rye 1/4-1/2 higher, soybeans 1/2 lower to 1/4 higher and hard 3 to 35 cents a hundred pounds higher.

Buying in rye again was based largely on hopes of substantial exports to West Germany, although nothing was heard on this point during the day. Rye was stronger at Chicago than at Winnipeg.

A short covering move lifted September soybeans during the morning. September had declined quite sharply in the two earlier sessions this week and that evidently gave some shorts an opportunity to get out of their positions.

Open interest in September soybeans at the start of trading totaled 10,812,000 bushels. Trading in all September futures ended next Tuesday. There are the usual various rumors about some of the longs in September beans be willing to stand for delivery while it is said the shorts are obtaining beans to make delivery.

Most Of 'Ins' Win Renomination In Primaries

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rep. Norris Cotton's defeat of Sen. Robert W. Upton for the Republican nomination for a New Hampshire Senate seat provided the major lineup change resulting from Tuesday's spate of nine primary elections.

Elsewhere, congressional candidates seeking renomination emerged victorious as candidates were chosen in New Hampshire, New York, Vermont, Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Colorado, Utah, Minnesota and Washington.

A New York state convention and a Rhode Island primary later this month will complete selection of nominees for the Nov. 2 election.

Upton's Senate seat was one of five at stake in Tuesday's balloting. Sens. Bridges (R-NH) and Saltonstall (R-Mass) were unopposed for renomination and Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) won easily over two opponents.

For the fifth seat, Colorado Democrats chose former Rep. John A. Carrill, 53, onetime adviser to President Truman, over Denver Mayor Quigg Newton to oppose Lt. Gov. Gordon Allott in November. Allott was unopposed for the Republican nomination to the seat vacated voluntarily by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.).

Johnson was nominated without opposition for the Colorado governorship and will face Republican State Sen. Donald G. Brozman, also unopposed in the primary.

In Massachusetts, the Democrats ousted Republican Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge two years ago. Foster Furcolo to run against Saltonstall. Furcolo, a former U. S. House member who now is state treasurer, outdistanced two primary opponents.

To run against Humphrey, Minnesota Republicans nominated State Treasurer Val Bjornson who likewise had little trouble with two opponents.

The Minnesota primary brought an upsurge in the Democratic-Farmer - Labor voting strength which DFL spokesmen promptly claimed was a "reputation" of the Republican party. But the Republicans countered that a hotly contested DFL race for governor and strong organizational work—not interparty disputes—were the major factors in piling up the Democratic vote. Republican Gov. C. Elmer Anderson was unopposed for renomination.

Seek To Prosecute War II Spies Under New Law

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new effort to get indictments against key figures in alleged World War II spy rings was reported under way Wednesday by federal officials armed with a new federal immunity law.

The Justice Department refused to discuss the report, but there were indications the new law was being used in a campaign to seek prosecution of the leaders of four networks believed to have filtered wartime information to the Soviet Union.

Efforts to prosecute alleged espionage kingpins in the past have been hampered by the refusal of smaller fry witnesses to testify. They claimed the constitutional privilege against self incrimination. The recently passed immunity law, however, allows Atty. Gen. Brownell to seek a federal court order requiring such witnesses to testify under penalty of contempt. The statute also gives them immunity from being prosecuted as a result of their testimony.

Harold Glasser, a onetime treasury official who has refused in the past to answer questions of a congressional committee, appeared before the special grand jury here last week. Whether he was ordered to testify under the new law could not be established.

GUNMAN THANKS OFFICERS FOR SHOOTING HIM

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A crazed gunman, holding a woman hostage, Wednesday asked policemen to kill him—and then thanked officers as he lay dying on the woman's porch.

H. B. Long, 42, an escapee from the Arkansas State Hospital, held a housewife captive in her home and shouted to police: "Come and get me, I want to die."

Then he marched the woman onto her front porch. The hostage, Mrs. A. D. Lynn, deliberately fell to the lawn, and a policeman immediately shot Long four or five times.

According to police, Long escaped from the mental institution Wednesday.

EAST ST. LOUIS MAN ADMITS KILLING POLICEMAN, PAULK
SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Elic Morgan Easter, 42, of East St. Louis, admitted Wednesday he shot and killed Policeman James Paulk of West Frankfort, the State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation announced.

James Christensen, bureau superintendent, said Easter made the admission to him and State's Atty. Joseph Hickman and Sheriff Paul Rice of Franklin County.

Christensen said Easter is being returned to Franklin County where he will be charged with murder.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The bond market held steady Wednesday, with government issues moving slightly higher.

In the corporate corner, most liens of American Telephone were off more than a point after the company announced it would call for redemption Dec. 15 all outstanding debentures of two convertible issues. With the exception of some rails which gained a point and fractions, most changes were small in either direction.

U. S. Treasury obligations firmed.

Bond sales on the New York Stock Exchange totaled $130,000 par value compared with $3,021,000.

New Device Sees Things Inside Body X-Rays Can't Find

DENVER (AP)—A new device which uses sound to look deep inside the human body to find secrets that X-rays cannot see is currently being developed by Dr. Douglas H. Howry of the University of Colorado Medical School.

The new device, which may eventually be used in the battle against cancer, works under water. Dr. Howry said it employs the principles of television, radar and sonar.

The machine, called the somascope, probes gutters, organs and tumors in soft internal systems much the same way that X-rays show the bones and other such hard objects.

But the X-rays and fluoroscope machines go right through soft tissue without "seeing" it.

The somascope's sound waves, Dr. Howry explained, throw back an echo from the soft tissue. The echo varies for different types of tissue, and allows surgeons to spot the diseased areas. The echo is transferred onto a TV-like screen as a picture.

Cigarette Makers Asked Not To Refer To Health In Ads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Trade Commission Wednesday asked the cigarette industry to consider abandoning references to health in its advertising and to limit cigarette sales appeals generally to quality, taste and flavor and enjoyment.

The proposals were made in a letter sent to all cigarette manufacturers by Charles E. Grandey. He is director of the FTC's new Bureau of Consultation, set up to foster agreements between FTC and industry without litigation.

By implication, the proposal put cigarette makers on notice that FTC might soon apply blanket disapproval against all advertising appeals, direct or indirect, "which are questionable in light of present day scientific knowledge."

The FTC letter made no specific mention of the current controversy over whether cigarette smoking can be linked to a rise in lung cancer, but said:

"The spirit in which the industry has entered into the effort to resolve the scientific questions currently presented leads us to believe that the industry... will consider this an especially propitious time to effect voluntary cessation of every questionable claim and implication in its advertising."

INDIA, CHINA TO SIGN PACT

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Indian government sources said Wednesday a Red China mission will arrive Monday to sign an agreement with India to boost commerce between the two countries.

SPORTS TRAIL

NEW YORK (AP)—There is no man we would rather see get another chance to manage a major league baseball club than Marty Marion, if for no other reason than to watch him bury that old canard that nice guys don't win.

There isn't a nicer gent in the game than the skinny fellow who covered the shortstop position with spidery grace for so many years for the Cardinals, and later managed that club, and still later the St. Louis Browns.

The loose and lanky Marion with his bubbling good nature and easy, friendly grin suffered a couple of bum raps when dismissed from his managerial jobs, but even those didn't sour him and last spring at Tampa, as coach of the White Sox he was the same affable fellow we always knew.

And by always we mean since 1940, when he first came up to the Cardinals from Rochester, an eager youth whose class could be spotted at a glance.

Six feet two and weighing only 170, Marion nevertheless was a durable individual, and we still can see him at shortstop going into smooth, flowing action whenever the ball was hit his way.

Always tremendously popular with his teammates, as well as anyone else with whom he came in contact, his choice as manager was well received by his fellow Cardinals, who were ready to take a ball bat and strike smartly on the head anyone who might try to make trouble for their new boss.

SUSPECT

THE STORY: Private Detective Jim Dunn has been retained by Mrs. K. K. Carlson "to get something on her mother-in-law. It develops that there was a sudden death at Mrs. Carlson's home on the West Coast and that Mrs. Carlson is suspected by the family of murder. Dunn and Nancy, his wife, are to pose as caretakers on the Carlson summer estate in the Colorado Rockies.

JIM stopped in the patch of light before the Creek Junction Hotel and Bar, one of the four buildings in the side-road town. "Won't be a minute, Nancy."

He pushed open the bar's door, stepped into an atmosphere lit by the red neon of the huge juke-box.

"Looking for Toby Argyle," Jim told the bartender.

The baldheaded, squat man, whose wrinkles appeared to be doing their best to hide seven warts, said, "I'm Toby. What do you want?"

Dunn wondered if the facial contortions were supposed to be a smile. "Keys to a place called The Spires. I understand it's out of town a couple miles."

"What do you want them keys for?"

"Do some work on the place before tomorrow," Jim hoped he was striking a right note.

Argyle appeared more genial. "Guess there's plenty to be done still. The old lady finally take it over from the boy?"

"You talking about Mrs. Oswald Carlson?"

"Sure. Mrs. Oswald, we call her around here. The old lady. She's a card."

"I'm glad to hear it," Jim said. "However, I'm not working for her."

The cordiality dropped away from the folds of Argyle's face. "Not?" He made another effort.

"The younger one then?" Mrs. Hilton, though you don't look like her type to me."

Dunn took the order from the Denver real estate company from his pocket, put it on the bar. "Maybe this'll help."

Toby Argyle's eyes moved quickly down the typewritten page. They returned to the top line and began a slower reading. He dropped the paper at last, pushed it back toward Jim. "Mrs. Oswald ain't going to like this."

"Look, Mr. Argyle," Jim said. "All I know is I was hired to come up and get this place ready for my boss who'll arrive tomorrow."

Toby Argyle nodded slowly. "Shouldn't think a city fellow like you'd take such a job through. Lonely place—The Spires."

"A job's a job," Jim said. "Sure. But there're lots of jobs. Hope you get paid plenty for coming up here."

Jim Dunn thought he knew what was coming and played along. "You bet. These California people don't know the value of money."

"California—eh? See from the paper her name's Mrs. Gelstrap. Funny sort of name, but I guess that cuts no ice. Now look son. Mostly local people work for the Carlsons."

Jim hesitated, then decided there was no particular point in pushing Argyle into a definite offer for desertion. "Can always leave if I don't like it," he said lightly. "Meantime, the rest of the staff outside'll be getting tired waiting. Could I have the keys?"

"More outside, huh? All right, young man. Maybe you know what you're doing. I'll get the keys out of the safe."

Toby Argyle came back at last with a bunch of keys on a length of wire. He twisted the ends of the wire more securely, tossed the keys on the bar. "There you are, young fellow. Sure you and the others won't spend the night? Could get an early start in the morning."

"Thanks, but I guess I'd better obey orders."

HE found the side road, cut the jeep's wheels to the left, crossed the main highway and started down a steep incline. A well-made bridge spanned a rushing creek at the bottom and the ascent was equally steep, with the road narrowing. It wound around huge boulders the size of five-room houses.

He slammed on the brakes as he rounded a sharp turn. The headlights of the jeep stopped a scant three feet from a high iron gate, whose ponderous double doors blocked the road.

Dunn got out, walked closer to read the rather faded sign. "No admittance without key." And just to leave no doubt as to the seriousness of the prohibition, there were added smaller words. "Authority of The Carlson Estate." A slim chain was looped around the two center bars of the gate sections and fastened with a padlock.

DUNN fingered through the keys Toby Argyle had given him. None of them bore the same brand name as that on the padlock. Just to be certain, however, he tried every one that would go in at all. None worked. He looked at the wire which held the keys together, remembered Toby Argyle's twisting together of the ends. He whistled softly through his teeth, got a firm grip on each section of the gate and managed a really worthwhile rattle. The chain tightened and loosened, clattered dully in the still night air.

The light in the cabin went out. "Hey!" Jim called. "Hello the house!"

His voice sounded unnatural. A young man stepped into the light.

Shooting Affair In Jersey County Brings Arrest

JERSEYVILLE—An information charging assault with a deadly weapon was filed in the County Court of Jersey county Tuesday by State's Attorney Claude Davis against Johannes Danhof of Rosedale Township.

The complain against Danhof arises out of a shooting affair in Rosedale Township late Monday afternoon when Fritz Haas was shot through the right hand and leg with a bullet from a .22 calibre target pistol, reported as held by Danhof.

Haas was brought to the Jerseyville Hospital where he was treated for the gun shot wound through his hand and leg. Following treatment he was released and taken to his home in the Rosedale locality.

The only witness to the shooting according to information received at the office of Sheriff H. H. Blackorby, Jr. was Oliver Engloff of O'Fallon, Illinois.

Haas and Danhof have resided in the same house in Rosedale Township for a number of years. A quarrel developed between the two, according to statements given local officials, and Danhof left Haas Engloff sitting in the yard and went into the house where he obtained the target pistol belonging to Haas. He is reported to have discharged the weapon through the screen door in the direction of Haas and Engloff.

Haas was seated with his right hand resting on his leg above the knee. The bullet passed through the right hand and leg.

Sheriff H. H. Blackorby went to the scene of the shooting where he placed Danhof under arrest and brought him to the county jail at Jerseyville, pending filing of charges.

12-Year-Old Boy Seriously Injured As Car Hits Horse

JERSEYVILLE—Gene Parsell, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart P. Parsell, who reside on a farm four miles east of this city on Route Number 16, escaped death by a narrow margin Monday evening when the horse he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by Joyce Hunt of Shipman. The horse was killed by the impact, and the boy suffered severe injuries.

Hunt and three men who were passengers in his car also suffered injuries, and were brought to the Jersey Community Hospital. Gene Parsell was removed from the site of the accident by Jacoby Brothers ambulance to the same hospital.

Riding with Hunt at the time of the collision were Kenneth Breitweiser, Robert Archer and William Alward, of the Shipman vicinity. The four men received attention for their injuries and were released from the hospital Monday evening. Gene Parsell received treatment and remained at the hospital as a patient.

Hunt and her companions were en route to Marquette Park to spend the evening there. Gene Parsell was riding "bareback" on one of his father's horses. It is reported that the horse, which was being ridden at the side of the pavement, suddenly shied into the path of the approaching car operated by Hunt.

University Professor Speaks

Professor George Maxey of the Bureau of Business Management of the College of Commerce and Business Administration of the University of Illinois told the members of the Winchester Kiwanis Club and other business and professional men in attendance at the Kiwanis meeting held Tuesday evening that prospects for business in Winchester were good.

The speaker told of surveys which have been conducted in 11 towns throughout Illinois to determine the status of retail business in these communities and to make recommendations concerning how business could be improved. The speaker complimented those present for the fine appearance of the business section of Winchester. He commented upon the many new store fronts which have been constructed in recent years.

He urged business men to set their sights for 1960 and be in a position to take advantage of the increase of population which is forecast for that date. In commenting upon the clamor of all towns for new industries, he related that an increase in retail business of 7½ per cent is more beneficial to the business of a town than a new industry employing 50 people. He urged merchants to use modern methods of advertising to increase their sales and stated that every effort should be made to encourage young people of the community to remain at home. He stressed the importance of local business men making an effort to find work for the young people who are seeking jobs.

Dr. William O'Reilly had arranged the program for the Winchester Kiwanis Club and in order for others to hear the speaker the meeting was moved to the Legion Hall.

Preceding the program at the Legion hall, Harlan William, Arch Brownell and Ellis Burdick, members of the Jacksonville Kiwanis Club, spoke briefly concerning the Division Ladies Night which will be held at MacMurray College Thursday evening.

Civic Music Offers Outstanding Talent

"Our joint efforts enable us to finance, a quality of music which neither the college nor the community alone could bring," Dr. Louis W. Norris, resident of MacMurray College told workers in the MacMurray-Civic Music membership campaign Tuesday evening.

The meeting followed dinner in the MacMurray College dining hall. Arthur Samore, member of the executive committee, presiding in the absence of the president, W. H. Kurtz, who was out of town.

"I want to point out that that in which you are engaged is similar to the curriculum of a college," Dr. William K. Selden, president of Illinois College told the assembly.

"You are giving the people of the community as well as the students of both colleges an opportunity to participate in the great arts," he continued.

"By the arts we are inspired to enjoy life and to live it morally. The success you have in the sale of tickets improves the community for all of us."

Dr. Victor Sheppard, chairman of the lecture committee, gave a brief review of the lecture series for which tickets may be purchased separately or in combination with the Civic Music membership.

All Contacts A Value

Mrs. William Meardon, National Civic Music Association representative here for membership week, stressed the importance of the worker's telling the Civic Music story and leaving a friend whether or not the person approached purchases a membership.

"If the person does not join this year," she said, "may join next year if you have made a friend for Civic Music."

Mrs. Meardon pointed out that Jacksonville is unique in her experience as representative for two things: it is the only town in which one may purchase a combined lecture and concert series ticket, and she has been here a whole week without hearing a single Liberate story.

Mr. Samore introduced the division chairman who were all present for the dinner and meeting: Mrs. William Selden, Joseph C. Cleveland, Dr. Sophie Leschin, Mrs. G. O. Webster, Miss Charlotte Sieber, Mrs. Dennis Peterson and Mrs. Arthur Samore.
